Talent award 2025: Grégoire Davignon from the Institut Pasteur de Nouvelle Calédonie rewarded

Grégoire Davignon leads innovative research on leptospirosis, a neglected zoonotic disease with increasing public health relevance, particularly in tropical regions. His work focuses on the gene regulation mechanisms of Leptospira interrogans biofilms, which play a crucial role in the bacterium's ability to adapt and persist in the environment

Mario Moreira
President of the Pasteur Network
President of FIOCRUZ

"Let us have the courage to explore, to stay humble, to keep learning, and to believe. Through our Network, we can transform knowledge into hope — and hope into action."

Rebecca F. Grais
Executive Director
Pasteur Network

"These boundaries between the possible and the impossible are often just a line drawn by convention or habit and science can cross it."
