

TBPPM LEARNING NETWORK INDIA CHAPTER QUATERLY NEWSLETTER- NOVEMBER 2024

Greetings from TBPPM-LN India Chapter!
We are delighted to bring to you the third edition of the TBPPM-LN India Chapter quarterly newsletter. This newsletter aims to keep you updated on the latest developments, initiatives, and achievements of our network.

TBPPM Virtual Roadshow 3

The TBPPM Learning Network India Chapter hosted its third Virtual Roadshow on October 3, 2024, focusing on Public-Private TB Care Service Delivery Models in India. Key presentations included the PPSA-JEET model, private medical college engagement, and the employer-led ALLIES model. Speakers highlighted achievements in boosting TB notifications, diagnostics, and treatment access, while addressing challenges like sustaining the private provider involvement. The session emphasized the importance of public-private collaboration in accelerating TB elimination efforts.

IPH Annual Meet- 2024 was held on Sep 30, 2024. Our team had a poster session at the conference

Dr. Ramya Ananthakrishnan, Dr. Mohanambe and several members of the Advisory Board of TBPPM LN India Chapter actively participated in The Union World Conference on Lung Health 2024, held from November 12-16 in Bali, Indonesia. Our team chaired a Community Connect Session titled "Empowering Communities in Public-Private Mix Models for Ending TB", where we shared how innovatively communities' agency could be strengthened through PPM models. At Booth CC2206, we showcased TBPPM LN's goals, impact and future plans for advancing quality in TB care. Throughout the conference, our team engaged with global stakeholders, exchanged ideas, and discussed collaborations aimed at improving TB care in India. We were also able to meet, greet and held discussions on TBPPM LN India with some our advisory board members of the India Chapter.

TBPPM Learning Network India Chapter at Health System Research Conference 2024, Nagasaki, Japan

Dr. Meena Putturaj from the TBPPM Learning Network India Chapter Secretariat participated in the Eighth Global Symposium on Health Systems Research (HSR 2024) held in Nagasaki, Japan. Drawing from the experiences of TBPPM efforts in India, she shared perspectives on innovative engagement approaches to work with the private health sector. The symposium provided a valuable platform to showcase our work and engage with global health stakeholders, further advancing efforts to combat TB worldwide.
